Cutting Edge Advocacy and Trial Preparation: Learn from the Experts

Course Description:

Trial technique and trial strategy experts from the American Society of Trial Consultants (ASTC) will provide participants with inside information, advice, and tips on how they gain the advantage during key stages of litigation. National leaders with decades of experience in the fields of jury selection, witness preparation, visual presentation, and focus group analysis will gather in St. Louis for their annual conference this summer. ASTC has decided peel back the curtain for local attorneys in order to share what they know.

Learn how to start planning for summary judgment, jury selection, and trial as early as discovery or before, and how to make your efforts on behalf of your clients more effective than ever before. Using a simulated legal malpractice case, different consultants will walk you through each aspect of case and trial preparation with interactive demonstrations and stories from their own experience at trial.
